

Supporting Techniques

- Never support an object or person using the neck, head, or lower back. Use hips and shoulders for supporting others.
- Determine that the base of support is securely established.